HOME HEALTH OF WESTERN COLORADO

In-home Nursing, Rehab Therapy and Home Health Aide Services

Nurses, rehab therapists and home health aides from Volunteers of America Home Health of Western Colorado bring individualized health care, personal care and rehab therapy right to your door. Home Health of Western Colorado's friendly and compassionate staff are specially trained to care for your needs as an individual, to respect your privacy and to help clients maintain as much independence as possible.

Whether you need a higher level of care due to a change in your health, or short-term assistance while recovering from an illness or a hospital stay, Home Health of Western Colorado's Medicare/Medicaid-certified home health services can be a lower-cost alternative to inpatient care and can decrease the likelihood of a return to the hospital.

Your in-home care from Home Health of Western Colorado begins with an evaluation by a registered nurse. Your home health nurse develops your plan of care in collaboration with you and your physician.

Services offered by Home Health of Western Colorado include:

- Skilled nurse on call 24 hours/day, 7 days/week
- Physical, occupational and speech therapy
- Medical social worker
- Home health aide assistance with daily activities such as dressing, grooming and bathing

- Diabetes management and education
- Lab testing and finger stick INRs
- Pain management, wound care and IV infusion therapy
- Disease and medication management
- Pediatric care
- Coordination of additional community services

Family CNA Services

When your child, grandchild, sibling or other Medicaid-qualified family member with special needs or chronic medical complications requires significant in-home assistance with activities of daily living like dressing, eating and using the bathroom, it's possible for you, a family member or even a close friend to be hired as a certified nursing assistant (CNA) to provide daily care. The caregiver must complete a CNA training course and certification to become eligible to apply for a position with Home Health of Western Colorado's Family CNA Services program. If hired, the caregiver would receive pay for certified nursing assistance provided in the home.
